Reynolds Takes Over Job On Resignation of Emerich

Mr. Melvin Reynolds, Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Education, has taken on the added duty of being Acting Superintendent of Schools, on the resignation of Dr. Paul H. Emerich, now employed in Highland Park, Michigan. Mr. Reynolds's new job consists of the coordination of the work of the entire public school district, with all principals, coordinators and specialists.

Mr. William Millman has joined the Board to become its newest member, replacing Richard Shrader. Mr. Robert Seeds now holds the office of President of the Board.

The referendum has put the Board on an economy basis, but despite this changes have taken place in the school system. One was the opening of the new Jefferson Elementary School on November 13, while the old building was turned over to the state for demolition because of construction of the highway, I-74. Two buildings are now under construction, one to replace the Ericsson building and one at the Lincoln School site, to replace both Lincoln and Irving Elementary Schools. Still another building change is the addition to Jane Addams.

and Secretary of Board

Serving the Moline Public School system on the Board of Education are FRONT ROW: Mrs. Helen M. Curtis; Mr. Robert G. Seeds, President; and Mrs. Roberta Pearson. BACK ROW: Mr. Melvin L.

Reynolds, Acting Superintendent, and Secretary-Treasurer; Mr. Alan M. Hallene; Mr. William V. Millman; Dr. Paul Moen; and Mr. E. Richard Friesth.

The coordinators, who attend to administrative duties, are clockwise: Mr. Ray Brasmer, Trade, Industry, and Adult Education; Mr. Donald Hartley, Assistant Elementary Physical Education; Mr. Howard Goff, Apprentice; Mrs. Roberta Wollerman, Instructional Services; Mrs. Frances O'Neill, Reading; Miss Marie Rinquist, Art Education; Dr. Frederick Swanson, Music; Mrs. Lorraine A. Nichols, Assistant Music; Mrs. Eleanor Jane Keim, Homemaking; and Mr. Ray E. Smith, Health, Physical Education, and Safety.

Mr. Lamont Hultgren, Administrative Assistant, points out Allendale to other special administrators. From left to right: Mr. Arthurs S. Jenkins, Administrative Assistant to Administration; Mr. Hultgren; Mr. Marlin Baxter, Director of Program Planning; and Mr. Phillip Mahoney, Director of Special Services.

Allendale, a large, stately home donated to Moline, holds the offices of the school superintendent and administrators.

Dr. Sapone, New Principal, Initiates Changes in Policy

Changes can be found at MHS this year as Dr. Carmelo Sapone arrived as our new principal. Coming to us from his former job as Assistant Principal at Hinsdale High School, Dr. Sapone has had 17 years of teaching experience on both the high school and college levels. His degrees include a B.S. in Social Studies and English, and an M.S. and Ed. D. in curriculum and administration.

One of his major educational achievements since his arrival is a new internal organization including representatives of the administration, teachers, and students. Another innovation was the creation of a new position, Dean of Students, held by Bill Best, whose duties include the handling of discipline and other related problems. This gives the counselors more time with studies and the development of a Title V Program, Guidance Instruction Materials Center. The Student Advisory Cabinet was another advancement made, to deal directly with student problems, such as the dress code and pep assemblies.

Dr. Sapone is planning for MHS's future. His improvements include more individualization for students, such as independent study, team teaching, small group seminars, a resource laboratory, and an instructional material center.

English Teachers Travel; Mrs. Case New Librarian

Innovation was the key word in the English department this year. Mrs. Bernardi headed a new program called Confidence Testing, or Mastery Learning, where both the teaching and testing are judged on the possibility, or degree of accuracy, rather than on definite right or wrong answers. Also new is the forming of many special committees to investigate new ideas for both the gifted student and the slow learner. The English department learned from the trips of several of its members, Mr. Adam to Evanston, Miss Carson and Mrs. Briley to DeKalb, and Miss Roseberg and Miss Neumann to Champaign. Special methods to aid the gifted are already being practiced there. Some of the variations being planned for the future consist of independent study, group projects, and panel projects.

The English department will suffer the absence of Mrs. Dorothy Larkin, who will retire next year. She has taught both senior and sophomore English.

Mrs. Elinor Case is the newest addition to the library staff, replacing the former assistant librarian, Mrs. Daurel Bebbler. Other changes in the library are the new rules requiring students to have passes to get into the library before school. Overdue book fines are paid in the magazine room in the morning to eliminate congestion.

Open Use of Language Lab With Language Dept. Plans

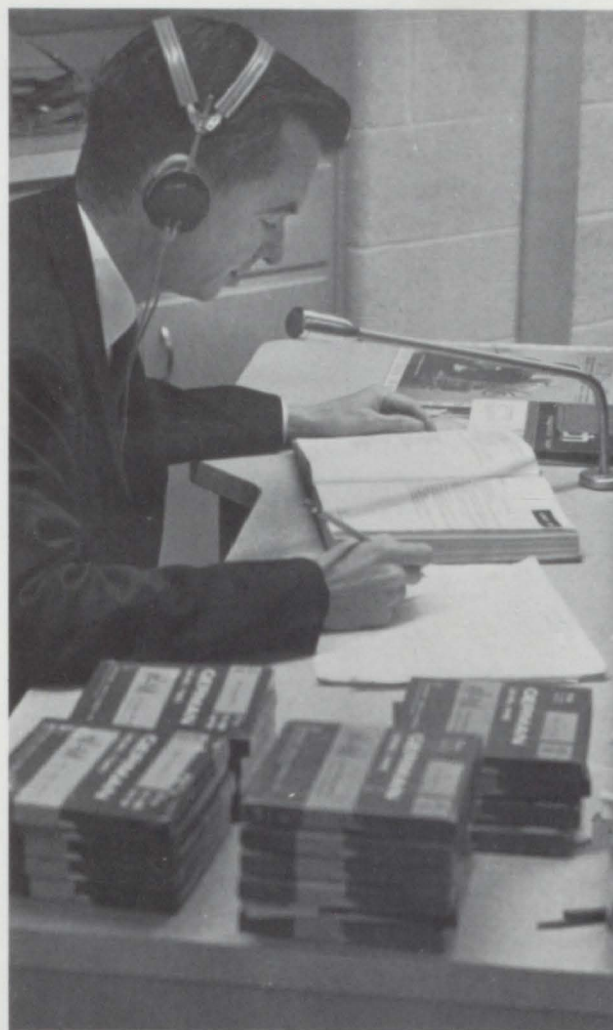

The Foreign Language department is planning many changes in the near future, especially for the students in the third and fourth year classes. Next year possibly a type of modular schedule will be put into effect by dividing the class into small work groups. This might change the role of the teacher from that of an instructor to that of a consultant.

The possibility of comprehension and dictation tapes for each student is being explored. The language laboratory may be opened next year for pupils to use during their study halls. More program instruction and more individual projects will be encouraged.

The testing procedure is also being changed in such a way that the student will be able to choose his own test from several offered to him. The different tests will emphasize either speaking, reading, or writing. After taking the test, the pupil will correct it himself so that he can compare and discuss his grade with the teacher before arriving at a final mark.

Mrs. Perry, who has served the Social Studies department for many years, will retire this year. The classes that she has taught are government and World History.

The Social Studies department has been working on changes and revision in the curriculum and will make final decisions in the future. Offering more elective courses is a possibility being discussed. The continuity of subject matter and studies may also be revised.

Mr. Philip Doherty, new German teacher, works at the control center in the language lab.

Science Department Begins Soph Chem-Physics Classes

For the first time this year Chem-Physics has been offered to students at the sophomore level. This is only one of the new ideas for improvement planned by the science department. Although the defeat of the school referendum has considerably slowed advancement of new projects, plans hoped for in the near future include a second year biology course and a complete change over to team teaching, especially in biology. Another new idea, already in effect, is the use of room E-301 during free periods for students who wish to experiment with special extra equipment.

A new program instituted in the mathematics department for the more advanced students was the offering of College Algebra and Trigonometry to juniors. Possible further innovations include a new course for seniors of analytical geometry and analysis, a math laboratory, and an individualized instruction program. This would consist of a carefully selected group that would be allowed to progress at their own rate.

The music department has also seen many new changes this year. All of the bands now meet during the same class period to provide an opportunity for students to progress and change bands without the worry of schedule changes. A festival with bands and orchestras of other schools is also being discussed. Another variance is the increase in the size of the choirs, due to the discontinuation of the Sophomore Choir. Two new concerts have been added to the choirs' schedule, one in the fall and one in May.

Mr. Dilulio directs the members of the marching band in precision marching for one of their performances at a football game.

P.E., Art Add New Programs In Scuba, Commercial Arts

A course in scuba diving has been added to the swimming program of the boys' physical education department, offered to interested boys in their senior swimming classes. Also new, to both boys' and girls' gym classes, is an extensive research in family living, added to the health curriculum. Some of the future plans for both departments include a special gym course for the physically handicapped, more clinics, cooperative efforts with community groups, and graduate level courses to give advanced training to the highly skilled students, using a more flexible instructional program.

A course in Commercial Art has been added to the curriculum of the art department, in which Mr. Leach teaches the students techniques that they will use later in their professions. The department hopes that future innovations will consist of more courses on the advanced level in sculpture, pottery, metals and jewelry, graphic design, and painting, and possibly an art club.

The Driver Education department has not undergone any major changes in the past year and is not planning any in the near future. The courses being offered, auto safety and practice driving, continue to make the department very popular among sophomores and juniors.

Home Ec Initiates Classes On Clothing Construction

A course in Consumer Education in Clothing, a special interest class dealing with the buying, selection, and construction of clothing, is the newest addition to the classes offered by the Home Economics department this year. It is designed for the junior or senior girl that has not had the opportunity to take any type of home economics courses since she was in junior high school. Future plans involve a similar course for foods, more resource speakers, and more field trips.

In the Business Education department, a committee is now working on plans for an introductory course in data processing, which would hopefully be started next year. The only drawback to this plan is the expense of the equipment. Another possible change would be a split in the Office Procedures office, dividing it into two sections, one for secretarial studies and one for clerical studies.

Because of the tremendous expense necessary, changes in the Industrial Education department are slow. Still the department would like to have a graphic arts shop with a two-year program beginning at the junior high level and a separate department for Health Occupations, since there is no program now that prepares the interested student for a career in the field of health.

Custodial Staff Preserves New Appearance of School

Although Moline High School is celebrating its tenth anniversary, to a visitor it appears only to be a few years old. This is a result of the hard work of MHS's custodians. Because of their diligent work, the custodians save the school quantities of money which can be diverted to other improvements.

During the past year, hall supervisors have become a familiar sight to MHS students. In addition to taking care of halls and study halls, thus freeing teachers to teach more classes, hall supervisors have special responsibilities in watching the cafeteria and in being teacher's aides.

The women who work in the cafeteria have been kept busy with varied duties which they must perform in order to feed the large number of students who use the cafeteria every day. The student has benefited from the expansion of the lunch menus which include a number of choices. Also, to the regular lunch line has been added a line for those who prefer a complete meal including hot dogs or hamburgers as a main course. The non-teaching staff of the school renders indispensable services to it.

Insuring that rules are met, a supervisor confronts a possible offender.

The cafeteria ladies are: FRONT ROW: M. Dye, E. Cobb, M. Morris, M. Hanson, D. Johnson, I. Roberts, I. Engstrom, J. Larson. BACK ROW: C. Todd, L. Duyvejohck, O. Logsdon, S. Smith, V. Hellberg, M. Dunlap, Z. Praught, M. Lash, F. Larson, E. Kable.

Various Activities, Studies Occupy Seniors' Final Year

Returning for their last year at MHS, the seniors of the class of 1969 participated in a year filled with innumerable changes. With the initiation of this year's new principal, Dr. Sapone, immediate revisions were accomplished in the Activities Room and in the new three shift program of assemblies.

Homecoming was reigned over by the Line 'O Type King, Bob Ruud, and the "M" Queen, Barb Olson. To the delight of all, this year's Homecoming was extended over a three day period with the parade on Thursday, the football game on Friday, and the dance sponsored by GAA on Saturday night.

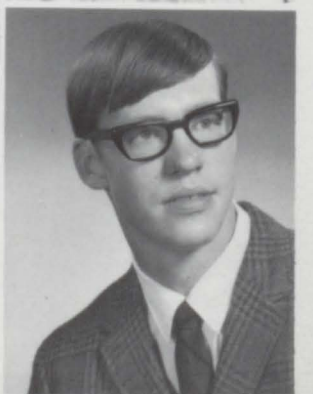

With the coming of finals, students had them spread over three days and they are now weighted at one-fourth instead of one-sixth. Among the other more favored senior activities at the end of the year was the Senior Class Production, which was a grand success, and of course, the delightful Senior Ball.

Ending the year with the Senior Party, the graduates have become ready to encounter the outside world.

Officers and Sponsors Make Final Plans for Junior Prom

The junior class got off to a good start this year, when they worked diligently on their colorful float. "Maroons Got Sole" easily placed first in the eleventh graders' second M.H.S. Homecoming parade. As the winning floats were driven across the field at the game, it was clear that the juniors were proud of their accomplishment.

Another important event was the selection of rings by the class of '70. Each student could order either a square or round style. The rings were delivered in late December.

Following Christmas were final exams, this year counting one-fourth of semester grades. This added emphasis on finals meant more hours of last minute studying.

Preparations for college and future vocational plans were also stressed. Advice on these topics was given on College Night, when college representatives visited our school. Further information was given out by the student counselors. Many juniors began taking a few of the several college entrance exams while others looked for job opportunities.

Second semester brought the junior class closer together as they outcheered other classes at the basketball and baseball games. Spring meant scrimping and saving money for the annual prom and studying for finals, the one obstacle between being juniors and becoming the upperclassmen of Moline High.

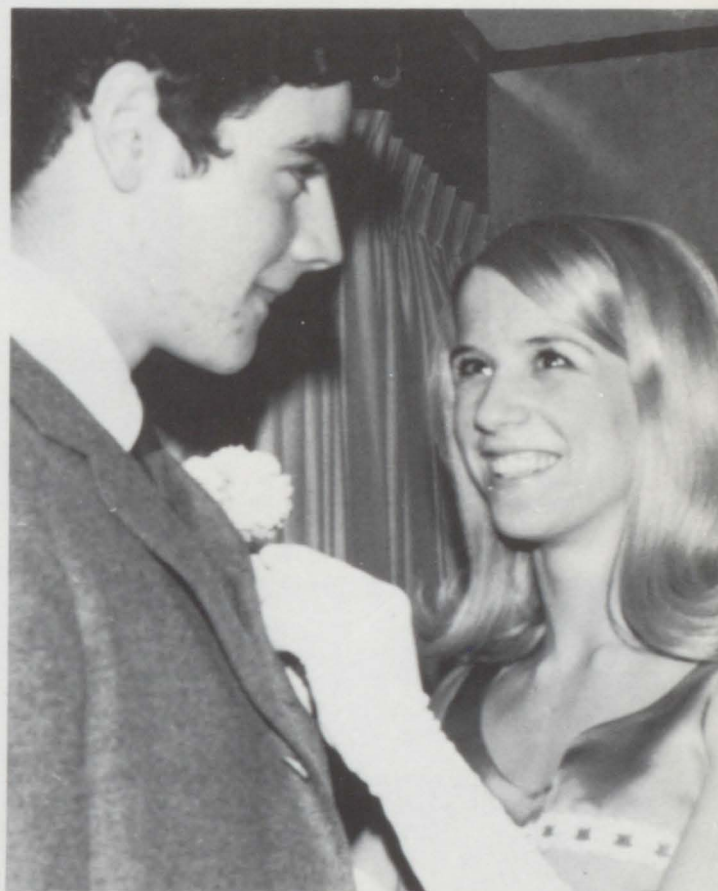

This year's helpful junior class sponsors are Mr. Moore, Miss Wayland and Mr. Derouin.

Junior class officers Jane Weaver and Walt Warner, Literary Board; Ellen Hacker, Secretary-Treasurer; Kathy Johnson, Vice President; and Bob Seeds, President, take time out from discussing plans for the annual junior prom to play some records.

Looking forward to a festive evening at the prom, Teri Brotman pins a carnation on Pete Wessel.

Sophs Attain Useful Insight by Exploring New Activities

Late in the summer, the new sophomores registered for high school and were given a tour of the building. Although the first day of classes was confusing with the crowded hallways and strange faces, they soon settled down to an eventful year filled with a variety of school activities.

Early in the fall, the sophomores got acquainted at their class party, which was planned by a student committee and sponsors, Mrs. Helgeson, Mrs. Shannon, and Mr. Leech. The students could swim, play basketball or dance.

Homecoming was another big event of the year. Hours of hard work resulted in their first float, "Cultivate a Cougar Defeat." Many students got their first taste of late hour study as they attempted to complete the float.

With the excitement of Christmas and turmoil of final week, the first semester came to a close. Second semester, sophomores gained self-confidence as they awaited their junior year.

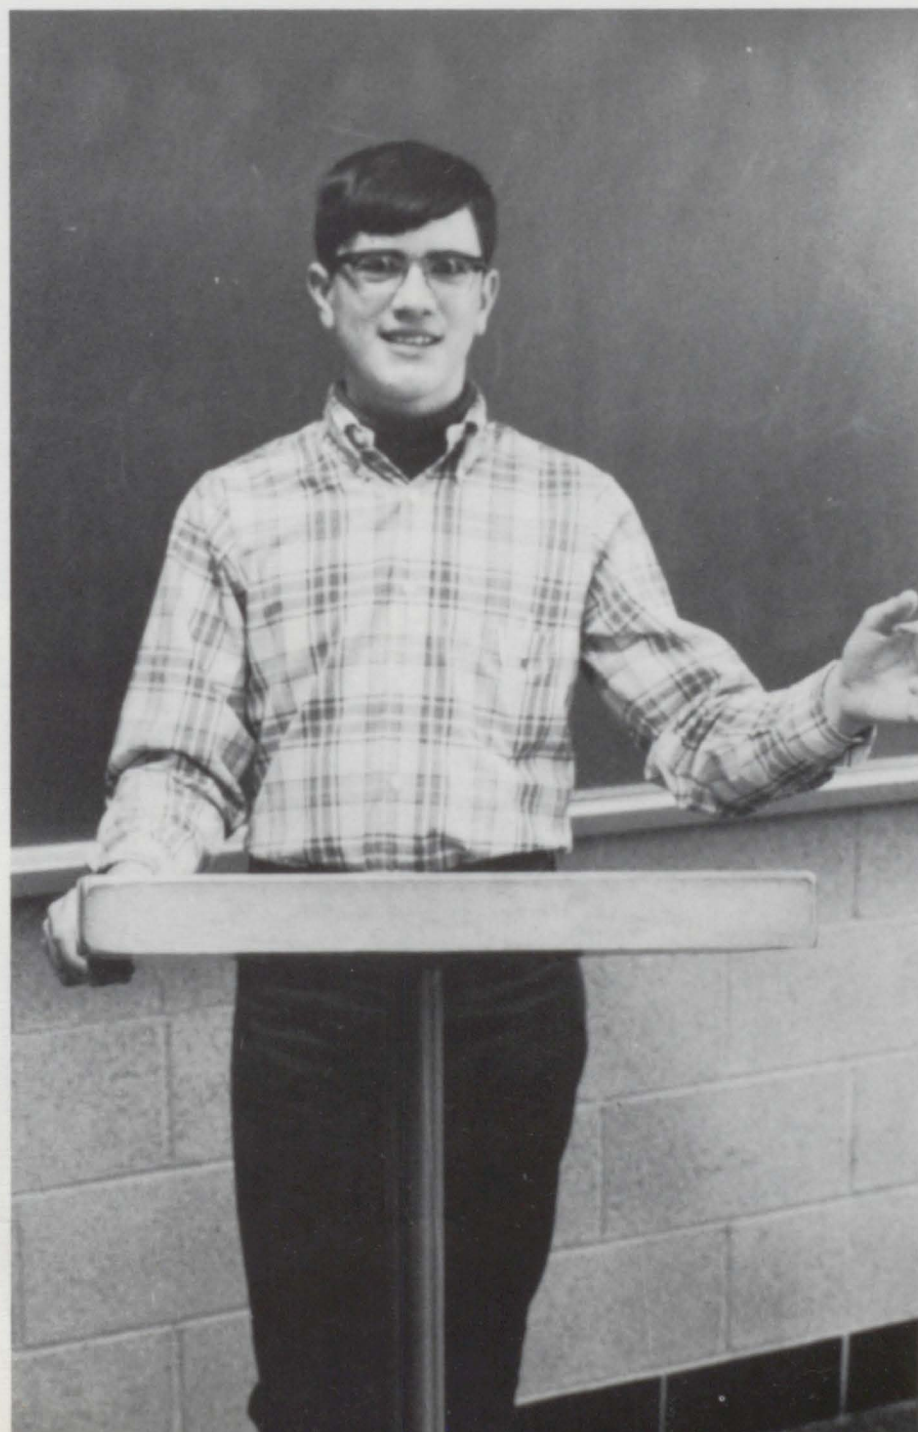

Amnesty Week, January 6 through January 10, gave Dick Nelson and other students a chance to return overdue library books, free of charge.

STUDENT LIFE

The school spirit.
A pride in being.
We learn together though opposite our goals.
The search for expression,
The group as a whole.
Each strives
... to reveal himself.

Student Involvement Leads To Maturity, Achievement

A student's high school years are a period of learning, social awareness, discoveries, and accomplishments. It is a time when he meets new people, and develops new interests and ideas. It is a time of involvement.

In the 1968-69 school year, involved students presented and passed a dress code. They opened and furnished the student activity room. They established a student advisory committee. They improved the arrangement of the assemblies. Involvement filled the social and instructive needs of the students themselves. Through this work the students gained additional knowledge in the areas which interested them, prepared in many ways for future occupations, and built a foundation on which to construct their dreams. Student involvement led to a sense of joy, noise and fulfillment.

Even with the responsibilities of classes, students find time for a little bit of after-school fun.

Around and around she goes, stiff as a board. One of the most popular games played at student parties is "Pass the Body."

Honor Society Recognizes Students' Academic Gains

In March, forty-six seniors and fifty-five juniors were recognized for their outstanding scholastic achievement at the annual National Honor Society initiation ceremonies. Last year, the academic requirement of a 4.0 average for juniors was lowered to the senior requirement of a 3.5 grade average. The Moline's High Twelve Club also honored the students' qualities of scholarship, character, leadership, and service at a banquet sponsored by that service group.

The Executive Board, consisting of the highest class ranking students of each Senior Counselor, prepared and presented the initiation ceremonies before the student body and the members' parents. Several Board members gave talks on the qualities of the Honor Society member.

In the spring, the Board and its sponsors held a College Night. Representatives from the various Midwestern colleges and universities, and representatives of several occupations explained to the students the possibilities for a junior or senior after graduation.

Journalists' Efforts Earn National Literary Awards

For their contributions to the field of journalism, thirty-one seniors were honored as recipients of the Quill and Scroll Awards. Sponsored by the National Scholastic Press Association, the awards were presented to those members of the Line O'Type, "M", and Kaleidoscript staffs who were chosen on the basis of their hard work, participation, and individual enthusiasm with their respective publications.

Sponsored by a committee consisting of members from all three publications, the Literary Banquet held in the spring where the recipients were further honored and received membership pins for their hard work during the year.

Sells Paperbacks, Candy; Stages Garst Art Contest

Made up of members of the LO'T, "M", and Kaleidoscript staffs, and elected representatives of the junior and senior classes, the Literary Board sponsored the annual Literary Banquet in May honoring the recipients of the Quill and Scroll Award. The board financed the banquet with the money earned from the paperback sale in November and the candy sale in December.

For the second year, the Literary Board sponsored the Barbara Garst Art Award. Ideas for the two dimensional forms, done in water color, oil, ink, and silk screening, were approved by Literary Board officers. A prize of $25 was awarded to the winning entry, and the work was hung in the English wing of the building.

A dramatic moment backstage reveals the instant before the presentation of the senior attendants.

Crowning Ceremony Leads Varied Weekend Festivities.

Smiles, cheers, and tears of happiness abounded during this year's coronation ceremony. Tension heightened as the editors of the Line O'Type and the "M" introduced the eighteen honorable mentions and the members of the court. The excitement reached its climax with the announcement of the Line O'Type King, Bob Ruud, and the "M" Queen, Barb Olson, who were both greeted by a standing ovation.

Preceding the king and queen, the court, floats, and decorated cars, the Maroon Band marched through the streets of downtown Moline. The Contemporairs followed the band, performing a pep routine. After the parade a pep rally took place in Stephen's Square calling for a victory over the Cougars of Cedar Rapids Kennedy.

Before kick-off, the winning floats circled the field. First place went to the Junior Class with its "Maroons Got Soul," second to Spanish Club with "Our Team Is a Gold Medal Winner." and third to GAA with "Can the Cougars." The winning car, entered by United Corvair, was "Clean Kennedy."

After the presentation of the floats, the Royalty appeared before the approving crowd. The following evening students and alumni danced to the music of the Jellybread Menagerie at the "Fall Spectrum," sponsored by GAA.

Leading the meeting are officers Jeff Lee, treasurer; Esther Huston, vice president; Suzi Grafton, secretary; and Bob Ruud, president.

Congress Backs New Dress Code Discussions, Changes

With Mr. Robert Moore and Mr. Jack Brown as their sponsors, Student Congress members completed another active year. The item which had the greatest interest and importance to the student body as a whole was the passage of the dress-code after members had successfully represented the students in discussions over proper dress and hair styles for school. A big change that involved the pep assemblies instituted three half-hour sessions which enabled the whole student body to take an active part in the program, instead of the former closed circuit television set-ups.

For Student Congress, this year began with the introduction of Shoba Raghuram, the foreign exchange student from Malaysia, at "Blast-Off" on the first day of school. Shortly afterwards was the Tele-A-Maroon sale. The climax came during Christmas. Student Congress organized and assigned the hall decorations to each club and then bought two Christmas trees, one for the cafeteria and one for the auditorium. Some members attended a meeting to review traffic laws and safety.

Members Support Overseas Girl Through Money, Letters

This year, for its annual good fellowship project, Key Club adopted an orphan girl from India. By sending twelve dollars monthly for one year, members provided their daughter with food, shelter, clothing, and an education.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Frank Willits, Key Club performed several services for MHS. These included printing maps of the building for incoming sophomores and new students, and activities calendars of the school year, and ushering at the football and basketball games.

Key Club meetings took place regularly on Tuesday evenings at Butterworth Center. Every other week guest speakers addressed the club on a variety of topics. As a junior branch of Kiwanis Club, the club sent three members every Tuesday to attend the Kiwanis Club luncheons at the Le Claire Hotel. Also, MHS Key Club held joint meetings with the other area junior clubs.

Again this year Key Club members unselfishly sold themselves to the highest female bidder for the annual Slave Day. As soon as the names of the sophomore, junior, and senior members appeared on the school's main office window, girls eagerly began placing their bids. After four days of tension-filled bidding the contender with the highest offer, won her "prize" as her companion for the day.

Boat Trip Over Mississippi Finishes Lettermen's Year

Major letter winners of all sports make up Lettermen's Club. Providing many services for the school, the club was under the dual sponsorship of Mr. Tom Derouin and Mr. John Julius, tennis and swimming coaches, respectively.

To support their social activities for the year, the club took on several money-making projects. Among these was the Donkey Basketball game between the MHS faculty and the UTHS faculty. A huge success in its first year, the game returned for its second year, to the delight of the fans. Other fund raising affairs were the selling of basketball programs and the operation of a coat check service for basketball fans at Wharton Field House.

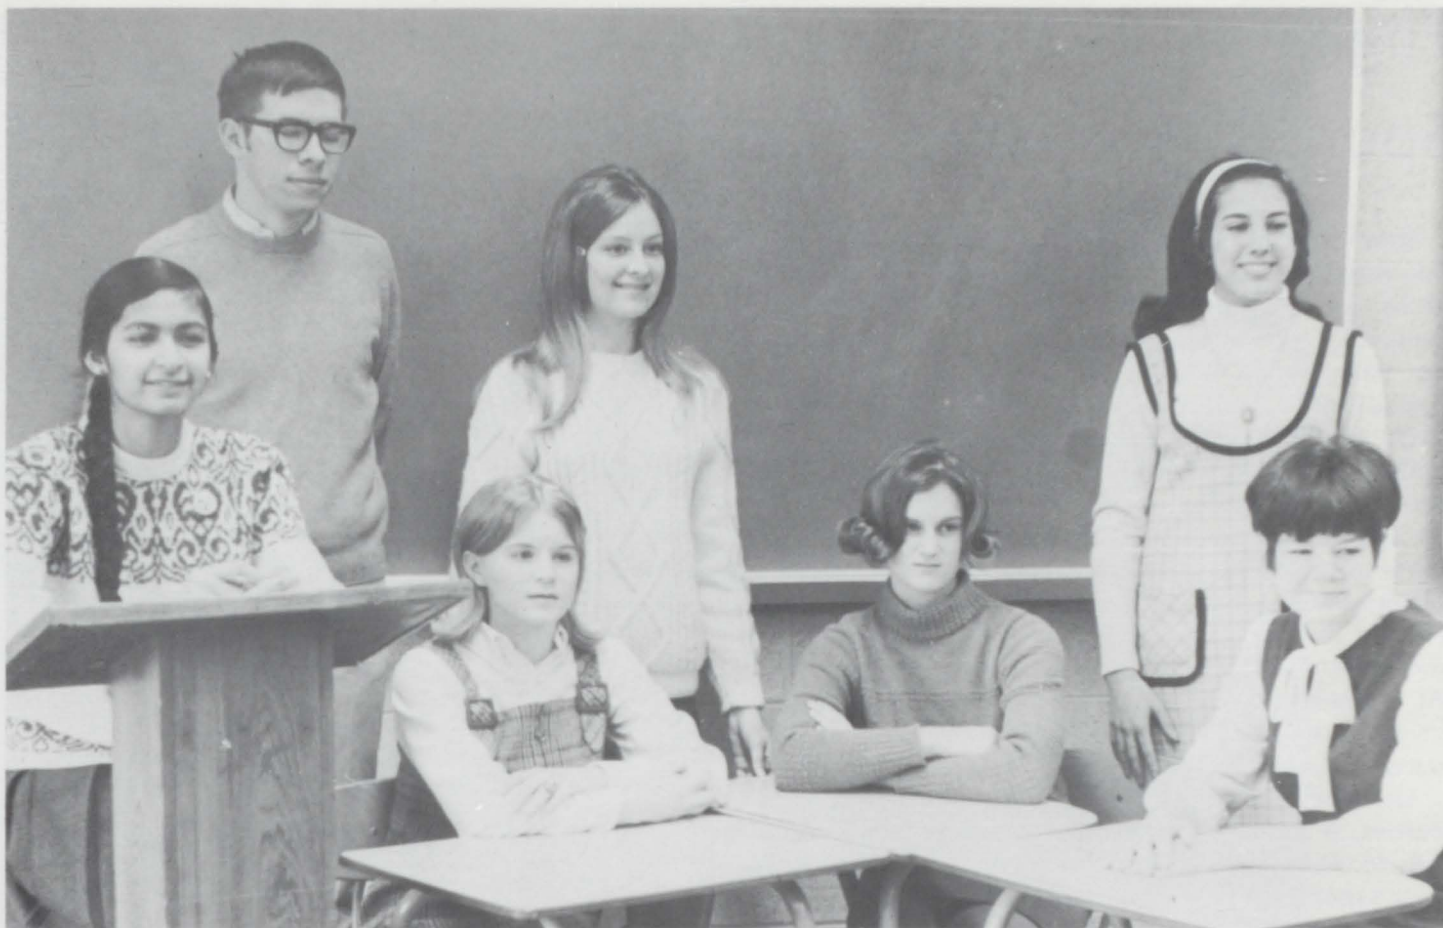

The Lettermen took on the faculty in the annual Lettermen-Faculty basketball game, which proved to be an exciting contest. The peak of the social calendar was the spring boatripe down the Mississippi aboard the Huckleberry Finn. A formal dinner on board highlighted the evening for the Lettermen and their dates, as well as various coaches of different sports and their wives.

Forensic Members Compete For Oratory Awards, Honor

With Mrs. Janice DeTaeye as their coach, members of the MHS Forensics team completed another successful year as a competitive organization. Vying for awards in the various categories of public speaking, interested students took part in contests featuring serious and comedy reading, oratorical declamation, prose and verse reading, and radio speaking. Originality and writing skill as well as speaking quality was necessary for those who presented original monologues, after-dinner speeches, extemporaneous speeches, or original oratory.

The team opened with the Invitational at East Moline in November. Later in the year the students attended the speech workshop and Invitational at Western University, where the students spent the morning listening to speeches and discussing each's strong and weak points, and the afternoon, giving their own presentations. Those students who qualified went on to the district meet at East Moline in the Spring.

Sponsoring a varied program of activities, Y-Teen Inter-club, composed of seniors, juniors, and sophomores of the Y-Teen clubs; opened this year with a registration tea in the new YWCA building. Donated to the organization by the Moline Elks club last year, the building was converted and opened for Y-Teen use last Fall.

On Halloween evening Y-Teen members canvassed the area collecting money for the UNICEF drive. A coin-filled milk carton was the ticket to the Halloween dance held after the drive. At Thanksgiving the members collected canned goods which were distributed to needy families in the area. November brought the annual Y-Teen formal, "Some Enchanted Evening." Held at the Rock Island Sheraton Motor Inn, the dance offered members and their dates a gala evening of music and dancing. At Christmastime, members collected and repaired toys to be given to the needy Moline children at the Inter-club Christmas party.

Other events of the year include hayrack rides, slumber parties, a senior "kidnap" party, bake sales, and plans for a trip to Bermuda for those members with enough points. This year's sponsor was Miss Ruth Wayland.

Evolution Debate Reveals Views of Church, Science

A debate in October officially opened the 1968-69 Science Club year. The club invited several authorities from both religious and scientific fields to explain to the students the background and main points of their beliefs concerning evolution. The club also sponsored a series on drugs and LSD, one part of which was a film shown after school on the effects of the latter.

The Science Club float this year varied from the norm. Sporting not only several members, the float entered, exhibited the absent-mindedness synonymous with many scientists—"WE THOUGHT IT WAS NEXT WEEK".

In November the club organized the selling of a block of tickets to the movie "2001: A Space Odyssey". These tickets enabled any member of the student body interested in the movie to purchase a seat at a reduced rate.

In the Spring the club took its annual trip to the Chicago museums. A second trip allowed senior members to view the Cubs in action.

One of the advantages of a club of this sort is that it provides the opportunity for students to share their interests with others and gain many new ideas.

Mr. Gary Bushman and Mr. Donald Fentem, the club's sponsors, discuss a question which they will bring up at the next Science Club meeting.

Solving one of the puzzles of chemical reaction are officers Tom Hoogheem, president; Anne Lefler, secretary-treasurer; and John Lester, vice-president.

The clever but questionable Science Club float was a unique contribution to the Homecoming Procession. Although the float was sparsely decorated, the club members appear pleased with its effective gapes.

Pondering a statement made by the speaker, students begin to develop their own opinions and ideas with the points brought up at discussions.

Revealing the Church's views on evolution is Father Robert E. Lee. He is one of the several speakers who lectured to Science Club members.

Members Agree Activities Fun, Rewarding, Different

Working on a chemical equation, senior Science Club member Linda Criswell begins to understand the need for logical reasoning.

Albert the duck has become the symbol of the Science department and Science Club. Every day he is seen bobbing in any science room.

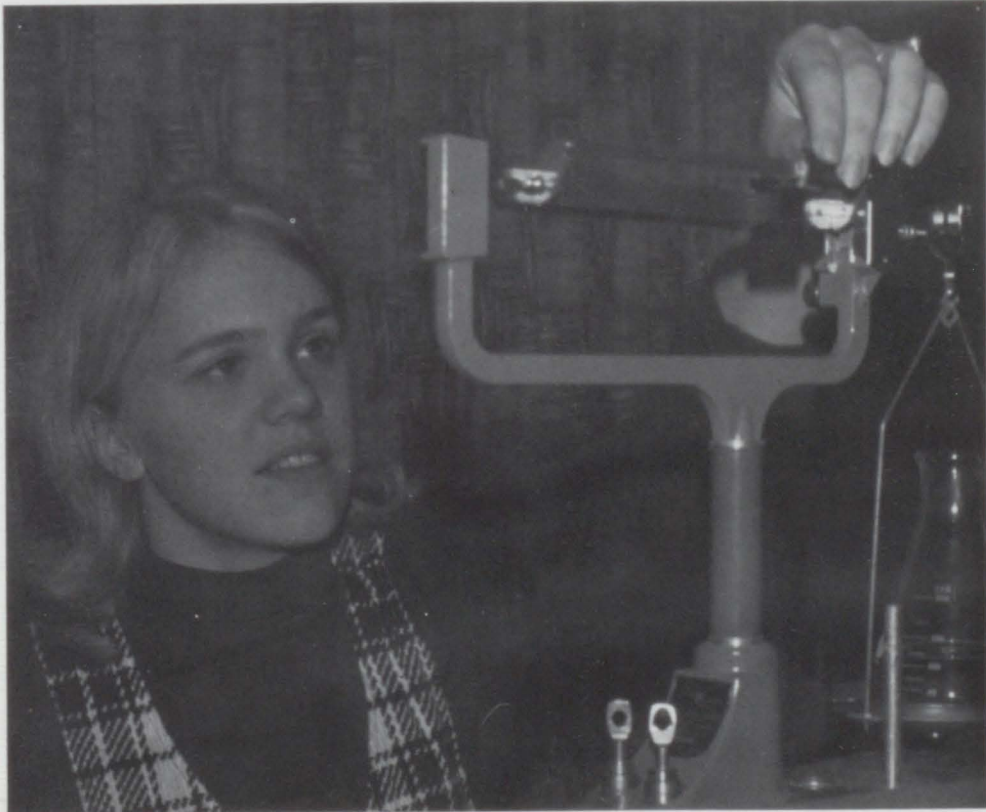

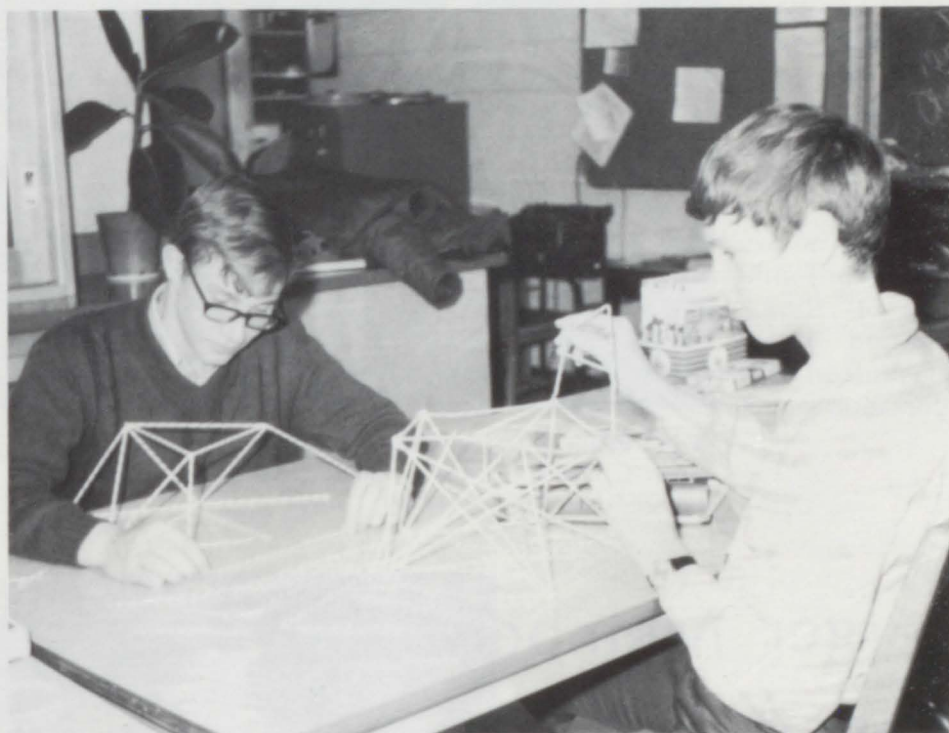

Practicing for the Chem-Physics basketball game, juniors Laurie Swift, Patty Beitel, Kathy Lewis, and Becky Shriver jump for the ball.

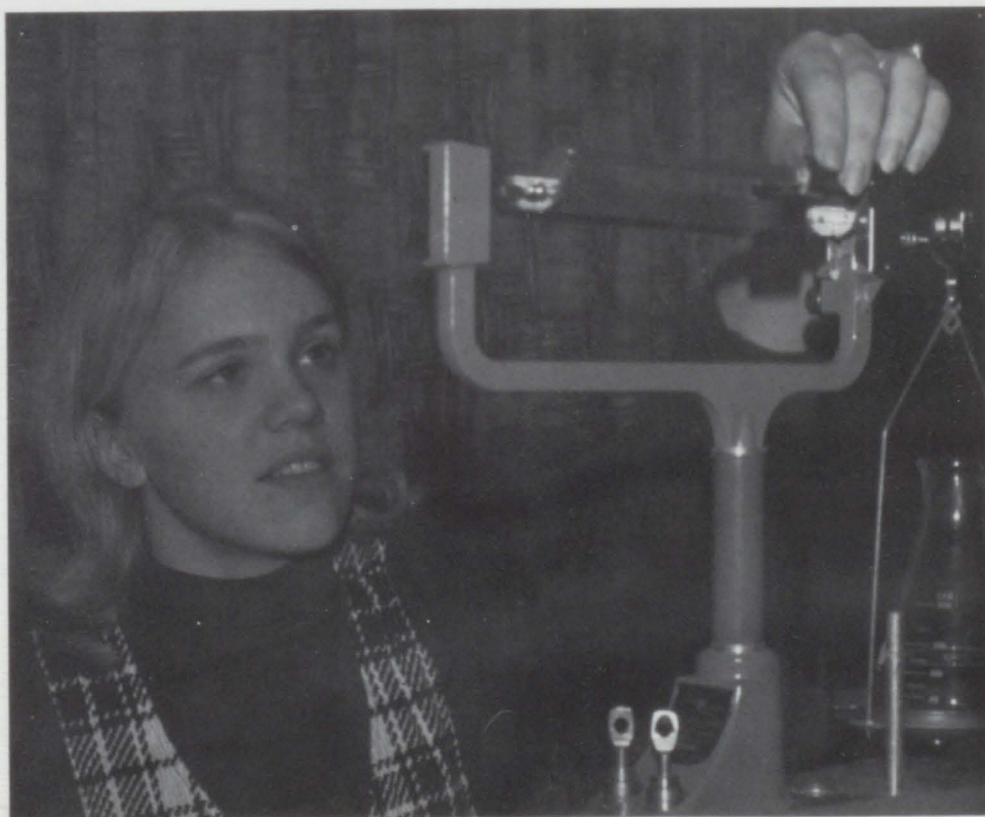

Delivering a brief history of the study of evolution, Mr. Carney, a biology professor at Black Hawk College, holds the attention of the Science club membership.

Utilizing the laws of physics, juniors Mike Rath and Steve Ozanne attempt to construct the highest straw tower that will support a physics book.

Connie Graflund compares the weight of the compound to that of the elements which form it.

Larger Membership Enjoys Varied, Unusual Programs

The Home Economics Club celebrated an increase in membership this year over previous memberships. Moline High School students who were interested in the various fields of homemaking, and had at least one year of home economics in school, were eligible to join. Under the supervision of Miss Ruth Wayland, a Home Economics teacher at MHS, the members gained experience in the finer points of homemaking at meetings held every other Tuesday evening.

The club entertained several speakers throughout the year. These speakers explained the opportunities open to young people in the field of home economics, and gave the members numerous secrets of charm and grace.

The annual Christmas party provided the members and their dates with an evening of food and entertainment that they will long remember. Many of the more adventurous girls created their own dresses for the occasion; the others planned an extra special menu for the party. The members presented two programs this year: one in recognition of their mothers, and the second to honor their fathers. Each was a tremendous success and greatly appreciated.

The Spring Style Show offered the Home Economic Club members an occasion to exhibit their dressmaking taste, talent, and skill by providing them with an opportunity to model their outfits. These were examples of the varied and exciting fashions of today—from mod to romantic.

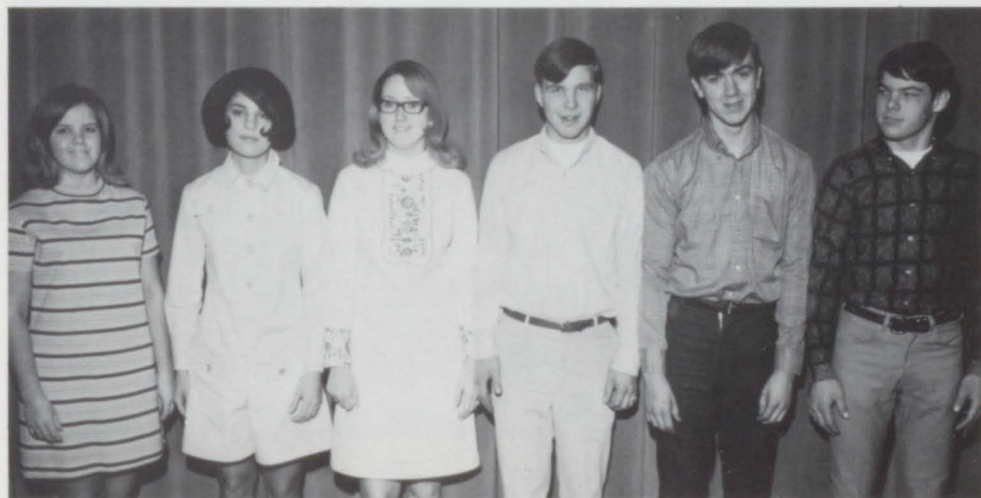

Making selections for the Recipe Card Sale are Jan Carter, secretary; Sue Delong, vice president; Miss Wayland; Pam Sweers, treasurer; and Marsha Mahon, president.

Sponsor Stresses Qualities Of Leadership, Citizenship

VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, celebrated its third anniversary at MHS this year. The club developed in 1966 after several students taking vocational courses attended an Illinois VICA conference in Dixon. The club offered again this year valuable vocational training through experience. In addition to working the students developed the character traits of leadership and citizenship so to be an important asset of community production and life. Mr. Frank Willits, the organization's sponsor, urged the students to become involved in extracurricular activities in addition to their jobs.

In September, VICA conjointly taped a television program with DE and OO, which was shown on October fifth. The Annual Employee-Employer Banquet took place on April 16. This occasion gave the members an opportunity to become acquainted with their employers outside of business. The students raise money to finance the banquet by collecting dues and sponsoring the November first after-game dance.

Students Use Office Skills, Gain Practical Experience

Offered the opportunity to earn extra money through working while still attending school, the members of Office Occupations, O.O., completed their third year as both an instructive and rewarding organization. With an increased membership, the twenty-five students began their year of morning classes of business administration, typing, filing, and operation of adding machines. In the afternoons the members worked at the area's different business establishments. Employers included Deere and Company, Uptown National Bank, First National Bank, American Air Filter, and Moline and Lutheran Hospitals.

The club took an active part in the A.A.U. newsletter and attended the Machine Show in Davenport. Mr. Edward M. Mitchell was the club's sponsor.

D.E. Membership Utilizes Knowledge of Advertising

Under the careful sponsorship of Mrs. Helen Gehring, the members of Distributive Education Club gained useful skills and knowledge in retailing and merchandising. Any senior interested in either of these fields as a career was eligible for membership.

In the first floor showcases and the display windows of the third floor B-wing, the members constructed several interesting advertising layouts with merchandise loaned for use by the area's local stores.

To raise money for their social activities, which included a wiener roast, the members sold candy and calendars in the fall and early winter; later in the year the members attended several area and state conferences. Jointly with O.O. and VICA, D.E. entertained several speakers throughout the year.

Practicing good salesmanship skills are S. Hanne, D. Webb, B. Mittman, L. Taylor, J. DeRocker, R. Roehr, and E. Shay.

Discussing their Area Conference are D.E. members R. Pobanz, C. Bottorff, J. Dhaenens, J. Kistner, S. Wessing, L. VanAssche, B. Canida, C. Morel.

Members Continue Service at School, Area Hospital

Future Nurses and Allied Health, sponsored by Mrs. Geneva Henss, offered students the opportunity to share their interests in medicine with others. Doctors, nurses, and other people of the medical profession introduced their selected health field at club meetings and acquainted the members with their requirements. Moline Public Hospital again offered an orientation program in the Fall for girls interested in volunteering.

Some members gained practical experience working as volunteers at either Moline Public or Lutheran Hospital every other Saturday morning. These volunteers, dressed in yellow pinafores and white blouses, helped the nurses by cleaning units, making beds, answering lights, and serving the patients' trays. A program of this type not only enabled the girls to become acquainted with the workings of a hospital, but also gave them useful experience in caring for the ill.

In addition to offering their services, members of Future Nurses and Allied Health had many social events throughout the year. At Christmas time they caroled for the ill; and in the Spring they held the annual early morning cook-out.

Tomorrow's Teachers Host Area Headstart Directors

To interest students in the field of education as a career and to give an insight into its rewards are the main objectives of Future Teachers Association, sponsored by Mr. Dennis Davis, biology teacher.

Seniors who were second year members were allowed to choose a grade level of a Moline elementary school and help a teacher during their study hall. Their duties varied with the teachers, but some were able to work up to actually teaching a class. This cadet teaching program provided the students with valuable first-hand teaching experience.

Members observed American Education Week by presenting teachers polished apples. Later in the year the organization hosted speakers for various groups such as Headstart to explain the different aspects of teaching. The club helped to finance their activities with a balloon sale in October, and an after game dance.

Finding their task enjoyable, Linda Morrison and Dave Hunt polish apples which they will give to teachers for American Education Week.

French Members Rate High Food, Folk Dances, Decals

As this year comes to an end, French Club's 165 members look back on a very active and enjoyable year. Christmas time was definitely the highpoint of 1968-69. On December 18, a group entertained the children at the Annie Wittenmeyer Home in Davenport. The children were especially pleased when the helpers of "Père Noel" presented them with gifts. Everyone agreed that the Christmas party held on December 17 was a big success. All the guests competed in a variety of games including balancing a balloon on a plate and later retired to sing their old Christmas favorites.

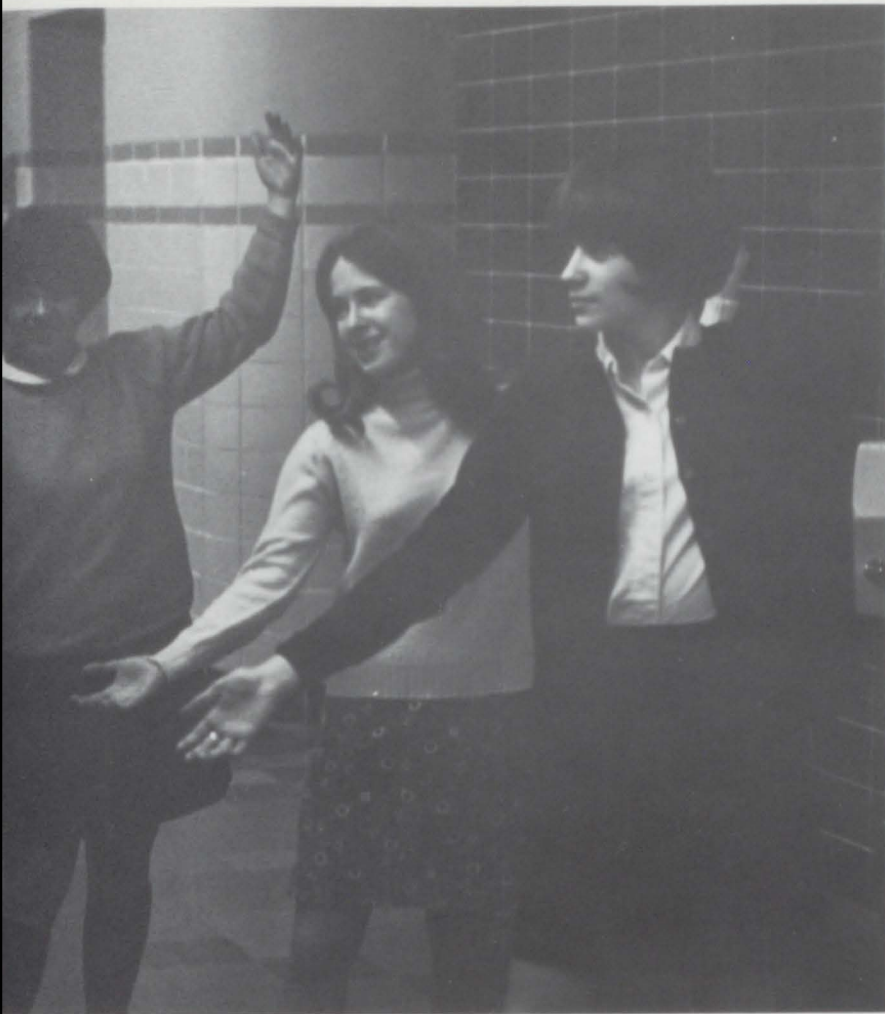

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Anne Bell, French Club initiated many new programs this year. Prior to the basketball season, members sold basketball-shaped decals with the Maroon's schedule on the back. In February officers and class representatives organized a French folk dancing program to acquaint students with the traditional dances of France.

Along with these new activities, French Club continued with many of the social events from past years. In April four members each prepared one course of a four course meal for a progressive dinner. They included many French dishes of soup, salad, meat, and dessert. Those who attended found that the cooks had prepared the food according to the standards of French cooking. The Continental breakfast in May, consisting of croissants and cafe au lait, completed the year.

Club Donates Xmas Dinner for Three Needy Families

Spanish Club members developed a new concept of design in the homecoming competition with their entry this year. Bearing the theme of the summer Olympics in Mexico, the float, "OUR TEAM'S A GOLD MEDAL WINNER", with its five Olympic rings of brilliant Mexican marigolds and its intricate felt panels won second place standing.

During the Christmas season, the club collected over one hundred dollars which purchased sizable Christmas dinners for three needy families in the Moline area. The Christmas Piñata party provided the members with an evening of enjoyment and a period of anticipation just before the colorful pinatas were broken.

In February the top third and fourth year Spanish students were initiated into the National Spanish Honor Society. Later in the month the annual taco party enabled the members to fill themselves with tangy Spanish food and to enjoy an evening of games.

Easter brought the long-awaited trip to Mexico for many of the club's members. The students sold candy and held bake sales throughout the year to help finance the trip. Finally, with Mr. Billie Lee as their chaperon, the students had the opportunity to intensify their study of the Spanish language while learning the nation's customs and culture from the natives.

Hollywood Films, Speaker Highlight Club Meetings

Replacing Mr. Bruce Anderson as German Club sponsor was Mr. Philip M. Doherty, the new German teacher at MHS. During his first year Mr. Doherty with the help of Ralph Benejam successfully interested students in the customs and culture of Germany.

The club's first project of the year was to construct and enter their float—a huge beer stein reading "KNOCK THEIR HEADS OFF"—in the Homecoming competition. This year the club offered the members a lecture series. Speakers such as Stephan Haas, AFS student for Germany, enlightened the members on various subjects of German concern. Also this year special Hollywood features furthered to explain to the students the country's cities and countryside, as well as provide stimulating entertainment. Spring brought the annual "Pickle Sikkle Sale" with German Club selling mouth-puckering dill pickles during their lunch periods.

With Enthusiastic Cheering Pep Club Backs the Maroons

Using their lung power to encourage and support Moline, the fifty-enthusiastic Pep Club members followed the Maroons loyally. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. Robert Moore, they attended all basketball games as a unit, urging the team on towards victory. With the usual outstanding effect, white blouses and dark skirts were worn, and pompon routines were devised with maroon and white pompons. These routines and the school cheers were practiced every Friday night after school with the expected attendance of all Pep Club members.

Not only did Pep Club cheer at the home games, but also at a few away games in this locale. To raise money it co-sponsored an after-game dance with the Science Club and then had additional bake sales. A portion of this money went towards the Share Joys Campaign.

Future Librarians Receive Faculty At Traditional Tea

Once again the members of Library Club were active as student assistants in the school library during their free periods. In addition to checking and shelving books, the girls acted as messengers for the librarians, notifying students of overdue or reserved books.

Miss Kathleen Curry, the club's sponsor, and Chris Jauhola, district historian, with two representatives from the club attended both the Fall and Spring conventions of D.R.Y., a student librarians' organization of Rock Island, Mercer, and Henry counties.

The membership invited the high school faculty to the Second Annual Faculty Tea on November 20. This occasion gave the teachers an opportunity to help the club celebrate National Book Week, and become acquainted with the library's new books for the year. On January 17 the club sponsored the dance following the Alleman game.

Fall Sales Campaign Picks Student Biography Choices

As in the issues preceding it, the 1969 Kaleidoscript continued to contain fine prose, poetry, and reviews. The selections were decided upon by the Kaleidoscript staff, sponsored by Miss Lucy Shawgo, from the contributions of the student body.

Students who purchased a Kaleidoscript during the fall sales campaign voted for the one senior boy and the one senior girl to be featured in the magazine. Last year, the first time the biographical articles were used, the NSPA judges noted that senior features "as giving roots to the issue" as the literary magazine received its seventh consecutive All-American rating. Kaleidoscript again entered the NSPA ratings.

Each year the magazine awards two deserving students the Ella M. Cockrell Award for their prose and poetry. The award is so named after Ella M. Cockrell, who began the Imp, as the Kaleidoscript was so named, in 1942.

Heading the Kaleidoscript staff are Dave Schell, Nancy Efflandt, Debby Gellerman, and Miss Shawgo. Dave and Nancy are co-editors, and Debby is the business manager.

With positions of importance are Lori Rhea, subscription editor; Garin Twentyman, art editor; Barb Olson, Bob Ruud, co-advertising managers; and Gay Jacobs, head typist.

Editors Attend Workshop, Study Basic Layout Design

The labor involved in the publication of the "M" began with the business staff soon after school let out for the summer. These staff members began the rounds of the area businesses early in the summer and continued into the school year. The sale of the yearbook began with registration of students.

While the business staff was collecting ads, Marcy and Merriel, the Co-editors, attended a yearbook workshop at the University of Minnesota. In the month they spent there they developed the basic understanding of good layout and design. In the Fall the section editors and the photographers went to the yearbook seminar at Augustana College. They were briefed on graphic design and layout patterns.

Mr. John Adam, the advisor of the publication, helped teach the staff the basics of yearbook planning. A special friend of the staff was Mr. Gardner, the American Yearbook representative, who helped greatly in deciding cover design and basic layout forms.

After all was done, all pictures taken, copy written, and layouts completed there was an empty feeling; a feeling free of worry, of late hours, and too many things to do in too short a time. There is just relief . . . and satisfaction.

Invaluable to the staff, the "M" photographers Neil Goldberg and Larry Parker prepare for another roll of film.

Deciding on a color for the cover proves to be no easy task for the "M" co-editors Marcy Gibbons and Merriel Kruse as they sort through the samples.

Section editors are Beth Evans, Faculty; Kathy Phillips, Index; Cathy Knowles, Underclassmen; Sue Kapple, Advertising; Merlee Mawdsley, Art Editor; and STANDING is Vicki Schellhorn, Fine Arts.

LO'T Election 1968 Special Announces School's Choice

The Line O' Type, the school's official newspaper, was a source of enjoyment and information for the student body and teachers of MHS during this past year. In addition to the usual scholastic news the LO'T offered informative and entertaining feature stories.

This year a series on the racial problems as they concern a high school student developed through polls taken by the editors and actual conversations between the editors and, the black students, and the white students, in the school from which the editors were able to compile a series of comprehensive reports.

An "Election Special" issue came-out November fourth with the results of a mock election in school. The issued proved the school to be pro-Republican.

The Line O' Type staff once again sponsored the Christmas Share Joys campaign. Under the guidance of Mrs. Mary Youngdahl, the staff collected money necessary to buy the needy children of the area the essentials they need.

Mrs. Youngdahl's English Journalism class published a special issue, "Office Memo" to publicize the musical "How to Succeed in Business", and to give them experience in putting out a newspaper.

Looking over the LO'T finances, Advertising Manager Joanie Larson explains the column to Business Manager Brian Kleiber and Judy Dekker.

LO'T—"M" photographers Mike Graham and Bruce Fryxell plan their busy schedule between the two staffs.

Joining in the seasons festivities, Steve Thomas, Editorial Editor, and Todd Nicholson, Managing Editor, trim the staff Christmas tree.

Feature Editors, Krista Sundine and Chris Jauhola explain the idea of their story to the Sports Editors, Jon Allison, John Avers, and Bill Pearson. Absent is Jim Strutz, a feature story editor.

Exchange-Circulation Editors Marcia Ferry and Connie Graflund delight in Sheila Phillip's story for the Sunday Times-Democrat.

Discussing the latest issue are Dave Trapkus, Karen Norton, and Kathy Gibson, Third Page Editors; Linda Gesling and Jo Ann Burrus, First Page Editors. Pages one and three contain stories which deal primarily with scholastic material.

Welcoming Tea Generates New Members' Interest

The first G.A.A. function for the year was a welcome tea which was held in September at Jo Johnson's house. Here the girls paid their dues and were given the handbooks outlining all the social activities and sports for the year.

Included among the list of numerous activities were the picnic at Mrs. Pirkel's farm, the Christmas party, Dad-Daughter Date Night, the Mother-Daughter banquet, the junior high playday and the farewell picnic in honor of the departing seniors. To raise money for the club and the mentioned activities, G.A.A. sponsored several money making events. These included the Homecoming Dance, "Fall Spectrum" in October, the Valentine dance, "Luv Bug Stomp," the all school party; and the traditional Nereids Water Show.

The Postal Swim Team brought great pride and recognition to Moline's G.A.A. when they won the state postal swim meet. Other sports which offered competition in intramural tournaments were: volleyball, archery, basketball, bowling, fall sports, tennis and gymnastics.

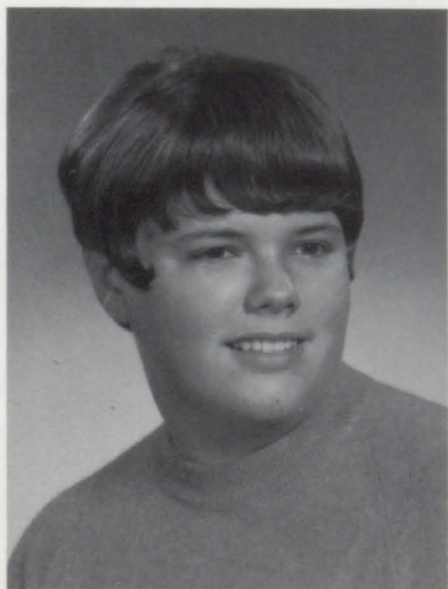

A club member earns two points for every hour she participated in a sport. At the conclusion of the school year, the accumulation of points were added and charms were awarded to the most active members. Seventy-five points were required to receive numerals, one hundred and fifty for a class letter, two hundred and twenty-five for a state I, and three hundred points for a state map.

The G.A.A. advisors are, SITTING: Mrs. Patricia Shannon and Mrs. Jean Carlson, STANDING are Mrs. Judith Carls and Mrs. Sharon Pirkel.

Nereids Explore Universe In Annual April Production

"The Universe" was the theme for the 1969 water show directed by Mrs. Judith Carls. Astronauts launched a rocket and from there it was to Jupiter with its gases, Pluto with its weird plants, the Sun and its rays, a shooting star, Saturn and its rings, Mars and its Martians, and Venus and love. The homeward flight was portrayed in the finale. Nereids made all costumes, scenery, and choreography.

Presented to seniors for outstanding performances during their high school years in various areas of Fine Arts.

Mr. Dewayne Roush studies some of the ideas for proposed acts for ADC.

Thespian officers were Kris Maeglin, Lynn Maddalozzo, Deb Denig, Steve Thomas, and Pete Lewis.

Thespian Troupe Entertained by Broadway Theatre League

Thespian Troupe 1900 was active at Moline Senior High School again this year. Thespians ushered at the Broadway Theatre League's four shows and sold cokes during intermissions of the Dramatics Production's plays. The troupe entertained members of the National Shakespeare Company and, for the third year, members served the actors a potluck dinner before their performance. The Honor Society had the opportunity to discuss "The Taming of the Shrew" with the actors, and many of the members worked with the production crews during the show. Other activities were the winter and spring initiations and the third annual awards banquet, which ended a successful year.

Play "Our Town" Provokes Thoughts on Life and Death

Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" was a provocative and challenging beginning to the dramatics season. The play was produced on October 24 and 26 under the direction of Mr. DeWayne Roush. His assistants were Krista Sundine and Gary Thomas. The crew was guided by Mr. Max Hiatt and Pete Lewis, the backstage manager. The cast and crew combined to produce a powerful and imaginative rendition of this modern classic.

Guided by a soft-spoken narrator (Paul Carroccio), the audience was able to look into the daily lives of Doctor Gibbs (Geoff Lee), Editor Webb (Gary Thomas), and their families. As the play progressed they watched Emily Webb (Kris Maeglin) and George Gibbs (Gary Donahue) fall in love and get married. With Emily's death they shared in her poignant realization of what life really was.

"Our Town" is performed without scenery and props, presenting a challenge to the actors. The pantomiming of most actions, directing of speeches to the audience, and perfecting an intricate lighting system were some of the obstacles to be overcome. These along with the typical New England shyness of emotion and matter-of-fact tone serve to heighten response to a powerful drama.

The easy-going manner of the stage manager helped to establish the mood of the performance.

Having realized their love for each other, George and Emily set out to live a lifetime together.

Mrs. Webb (Judy Dekker) listens intently as Mrs. Gibbs (Denise Woodard) reveals her dream to see Paris before she dies.

Student directors Gary Thomas and Krista Sundine advise Gary Donahue on a difficult pantomime scene.

Emily turns from the painful realization that people never appreciate the wonder of life while they are alive.

Preparing for the weekend guests, Rogers and Mrs. Rogers receive more supplies from Narracott, a boatman from the mainland of England.

Marston's sudden and unexpected death is believed to be suicide.

Drama "Ten Little Indians" Builds Tension in Audience

"Ten Little Indians", a thriller by Agatha Christie, was presented on January 30 and February 1. It was directed by Miss Dolores Beckmann who was assisted by Vicki Schellhorn. The crews were directed by Mr. Max Hiett, Mr. John Small, and Miss Helen Fessler. The stage was set on Indian Island, where the servants, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers (Dick Nelson, Judy Dekker), had been ordered by their employer Mr. Owen to prepare his house for a party of eight while he was in London. A boatman, Narracott (Tim Dyer), brought the guests including Vera Claythorne (Connie Frederick), a secretary; Capt. Lombard (Bill Durham), an adventurer; Miss Brent (Molly Monahan), a spinster; Wm. Blore (Geoff Lee), a detective; Mr. Marston (Gary Donahue), a young playboy; Sir Lawrence Wargrave (Steve Thomas), a judge; General MacKenzie (Gary Thomas), a retired officer; and Dr. Armstrong (Clark Wilson), a nerve specialist. The guests started off in high spirits, but they soon learned that the Owens were not coming and the guests began dying according to a nursery rhyme. The killer, who was Wargrave, was revealed after all but two of his "Indians" had been killed. The play ended on a romantic note as Lombard came to Vera's rescue and killed Wargrave.

Vera shrinks in terror as Wargrave prepares to hang her, the last of his ten little Indians.

The party begins in a festive and lighthearted spirit. While the other guests are unpacking or chatting in various parts of the house, Marston tries to flirt with Vera. However, Lombard has other ideas and is preparing to end the flirtation.

The Wide World of Wickets Comes to Moline High Stage

The Broadway hit "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying" was presented December 5 and 6 on the MHS stage. The World Wide Wicket Company headed by board chairman Wally Womper (Art Christofersen) and president J. B. Biggley (Steve Stohl) hired a young window washer named J. Pierpoint Finch (John Sundine) for the mail room. Little did they realize that Finch would rise into the very seat occupied by Wally Womper. On his way to the top Finch was aided by Rosemary (Kris Maeglin and Lori Rhea), whom he married; Miss Jones, J. B.'s secretary: Mr. Twimble (Pete Lewis), the head of the mail room; and the company secretaries. He also made enemies, notably J. B.'s nephew Bud Frump (Hank Larson), Ovington (Doug Sauter), and the rest of the executives. But the uneasy executives were not his only obstacles. A company sponsored treasure hunt was nearly fatal to the firm and to Finch through the blundering of J. B.'s girlfriend Hedy LaRue (Karen Darnell). However, Finch took the situation in hand, the company was saved, and Finch emerged as chairman of the board.

Mr. Louis Dilulio, Mr. Merle Wegener, Mrs. Larry Dennhardt, Mr. Calvin Hedegaard, Mr. Donald Florence, and Deb Denig directed various phases of the production.

The executives meet with Biggley in hopes of ruining Finch's opportunities for further advancement in the company. They are Don

Outstanding Concert Choir Ends Another Busy Season

The Concert Choir, directed by Mr. Calvin Hedegaard, once again proved its versatility as it performed for many different audiences. The choir made its first appearance in the Fall Choral Concert. Throughout November many members of the choir prepared for the operetta, as well as for Christmas Vespers and other Christmas programs. Later in the year the choir performed in "One Night of Melody", music contests, and the Outdoor Concert. Baccalaureate and Commencement ended another rewarding year.

Choirs, Crew, Contemporairs Promote Greater Enthusiasm

A Capella choir and the newly created Mixed Chorus were both directed by Mr. Calvin Hedegaard this year. Each choir is now open to members of all three classes. The choirs sang for various programs including the fall choral concert, Christmas Vespers and other Christmas programs, and "One Night of Melody."

The energetic stage crew was more hard working than ever. Veteran members and rookies alike became an operating unit under the supervision of Mr. Max Hiatt. They built sets, created sound and lighting effects, and worked during plays, concerts, recitals, and assemblies.

The Contemporairs entertained school and community audiences by dancing for concerts, football and basketball games, and various other programs. They prepared diligently in their before-school physical education class conducted by Mrs. Carol Youngquist.

Sections of Band Boost Pep At Athletic Contests, Auds

Appearing in various concerts and contests throughout the year, the band provided its music for the school and community. This was the second year for the band's new uniforms, which are black and white, setting a dignified mood for performances, and lending to versatility.

The band participated in the state band contest, and held a concert in February as well as those in the spring. In addition, the stage band, the marching band, and the pep bands represented our school. The marching band performed for all home football games and in the homecoming parade. The pep bands boosted spirit at the home basketball games and pep assemblies.

This year's band, directed by Mr. Louis Dilulio, was a successful and exciting part of MHS life.

Mr. Louis Dilulio is a driving force behind the band and the entire music department.

Cheerleaders Rouse Spirit With New Stunts and Yells

Supporting the Maroons throughout the year, the Moline cheerleaders brought sparkle and spirit to the games. Their coach, Mrs. Pirkel, had cheerleading clinics for them during the summer and at this time they developed new cheers around their fine acrobatic skills. They polished and perfected routines during afternoon practices and weekly trips to the Wharton Field House.

Leading yells and generating enthusiasm at all football and basketball games, and varsity swimming and wrestling meets, the cheerleaders' talents were well used. This year, as last, they were attired in striking maroon and white outfits and used pompons during the football season.

Anders, Carther Win High Honors at Awards Banquet

Head coach, Harley Rollinger, led the 1968 Moline Maroon football team to a 6—2—1 record and fourth place in the MVC. For the second straight year the conference title was not decided until the final game. This year Washington dropped the Maroons with a disappointing 33—0 score.

Led by a quick offense and stubborn defense, the Maroons outscored their opponents 227—109. Proving their defensive might, the gridmen shutout four rivals: Clinton (22—0), West (33—0), Alleman (47—0), and Kennedy (9—0) in the homecoming tilt. In the opening game of the season, Moline deadlocked Central in a frustrating 7—7 tie by giving up a last minute touchdown. The gridder's only losses came at the hands of Rock Island (20—33) and Washington.

Curt Anders, a leader on this year's team, was captain, by choice of his teammates. End Rich Crakes, guard Ken Coverdill, and Anders became members of the All-Conference team, which was chosen by the coaches. Guard John DeCoster and tackle Paul Carther joined Anders, Crakes, and Coverdill on the All Quad-Cities first team.

At the annual football banquet Anders was named best offensive player. Carther received the best defensive player award. Tim Moen and Ron Weis were named co-captains for the 1969 season.

The 1968 sophomore football team through a tough schedule with five wins and three losses forecasting a bright future as varsity players. Head coach Richard Matter, in his second season as an MVC coach, molded his group into a workable unit which lost its first two games and then won five in a row before dropping the last contest.

With the valuable help of assistant coaches Fritz Boom and Kermit Wilt, the Little Maroons learned the fundamentals of blocking, tackling, and running. By teaching these basics to the soph gridders, they gained the ability and courage necessary to play under varsity game situations.

The sophomores captured first place in the Quad-Cities by taking an exciting come from behind victory over Rock Island (20—6). The Little Maroons fourth place in the MVC shows great promise for their varsity years.

D. Smith Captures Second State Meet at Champaign

Coached by Gene Shipley, this year's cross-country team was hampered by a small squad. Despite this, individuals placed high in every dual meet and tournament in which they participated.

The harriers were paced by Duane Smith, who took first in both the Mississippi Valley Conference and District meets, with the rest of the team running well. At the State Meet, Smith was nipped at the wire and received second place out of a field of 150 contestants. The squad also captured sixth and seventh in the Valley and District meets. The squad also received fourth place in the Mississippi Valley Conference mile run.

Success Rewards the Hard-Working Girls' Tennis Team

The girls' tennis team coached by Miss Donna McMahon made a fine showing for Moline this year. During the fall session, although finishing in last place among surrounding schools they placed third in the Quad-City tournament. They were attired in new outfits this year, consisting of white tennis shorts and blouses, and maroon sweatshirts.

Hard work, spent during practice on Monday thru Thursday and Saturday, earned some girls a major or minor letter. These were received by the girls at the end of the spring season. Other girls, though not receiving a letter this year, can compete for a position on next year's team.

Nystrom, Forsberg Direct Netmen to 8—1—1 Record

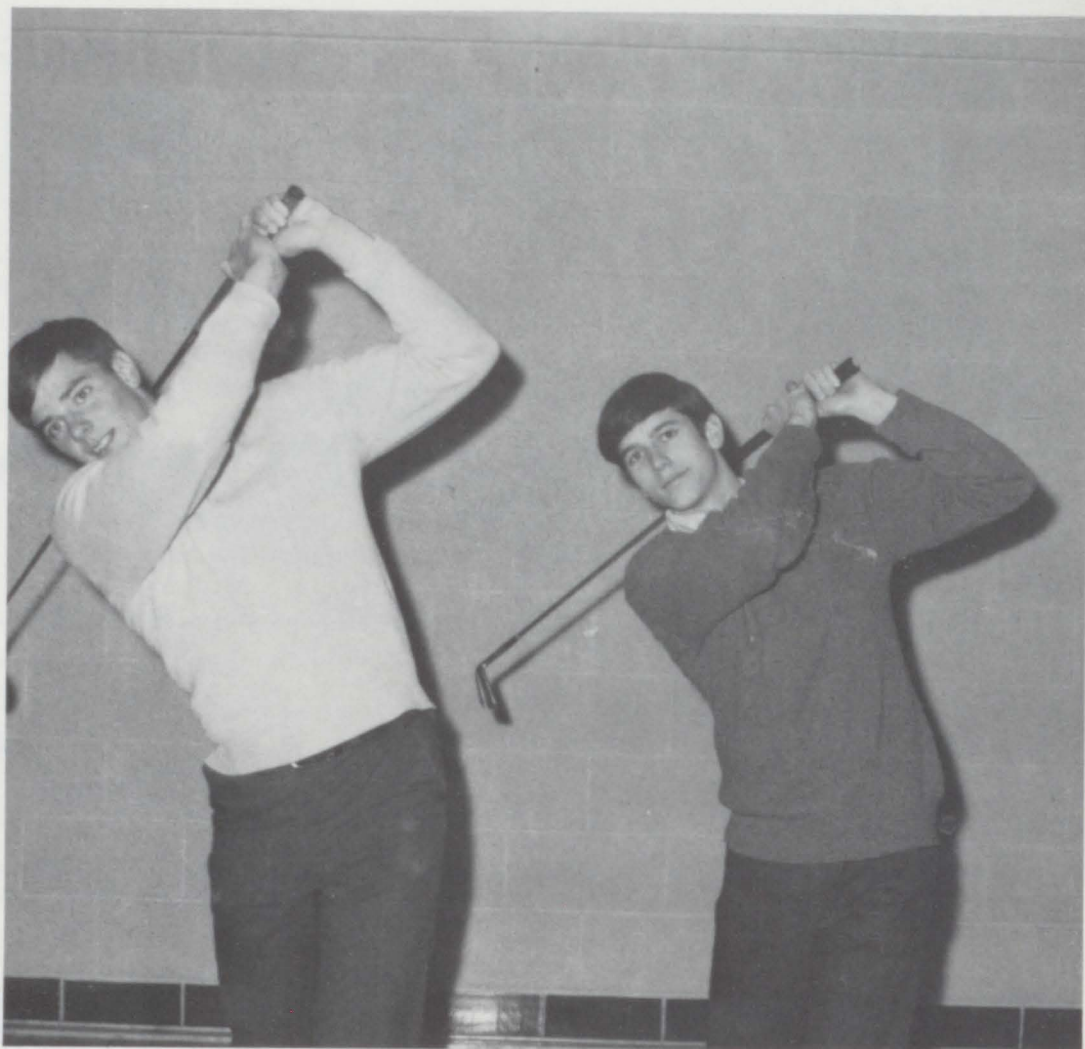

Coached by Mr. Tom Derouin, the Maroon netmen completed another excellent fall season and anticipated to fare well in spring competition. The record of combined singles and doubles matches was 8—1—1.

Moline scored shutouts in the defeats of Davenport Central, Davenport West, and Alleman. Maroon netmen were also victorious against East Moline (8—1) but lost to a tough Rock Island team (6—3).

Joe Wolfe, Jeff Ryser, and Mark Suiter led the team in perfect 5—0 records in singles competition. Moline's duo of Bruce Nystrom and Doug Forsberg won the doubles championship at the Quad-City Tournament. The combination of Joe Wolfe and Pat Eyre were runners-up to the championship after being beaten by Nystrom and Forsberg.

Future Bright for Golfers; Dye Initiates New System

Moline's 1968 golf team again engaged in the Quad City Golf Tournament in the fall. Under the experienced coaching of Mr. Jack Dye, the linksters played against the five other Quad City high school teams entered in the tourney held at various area courses. Other schools participating in the competition were Davenport Central, Davenport West, East Moline, Alleman, and Rock Island. Out of this field of competing high schools, Moline finished sixth.

Members of this year's squad included six seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore. They were seniors Bob Gruenberger, John Clark, Dennis Johnson, Dan Raynor, Dave Trapkus, and Gary Gekas; juniors Gordon Bloeser and Gary Haegener; and sophomore John Carpentier. Dye initiated a new platoon system in which each member, whether sophomore, junior, or senior, could participate in at least one tournament.

This fall season tournament record could not be classified as being outstanding. Despite this record the linksters wait for the spring season to try to make a comeback and to develop the promise they showed at the beginning of fall.

Every Class Participates in Intramural Competition

Sports enthusiasts participated this year in flag football, basketball, bowling, and a new tennis program in intramural competition. Boys of all grades could enter these extracurricular activities.

Intramural flag football concluded with SFU Boys taking the championship by defeating Treadie's Boys 30—0. Members of the SFU Boys were Craig DeBo, Steve Brunstrom, Pete McDermott, Dave Meersman, Bob Hoyt, Greg Kookan, Jeff Teske, Tom Thomas, and Larry Wiebel. Science Club took third place, Flower Power was fourth, and Student Congress finished fifth.

After football ended, basketball, sponsored by Mr. Fritz Boom, began with competition in all three grades. Teams separated into three leagues, one for each grade. When regular play was completed in the senior, junior, and sophomore leagues, a play-off was held to determine the intramural basketball champions.

This year's intramurals program added tennis to its schedule. Over forty contestants participated in the double elimination tournament which ran from September to November. The winner was Dave Neighbours.

The action in all of the intramural games came hard and fast as most of the games were exciting and hard-fought. These organized athletics inspired determination and sports—to all the boys participating.

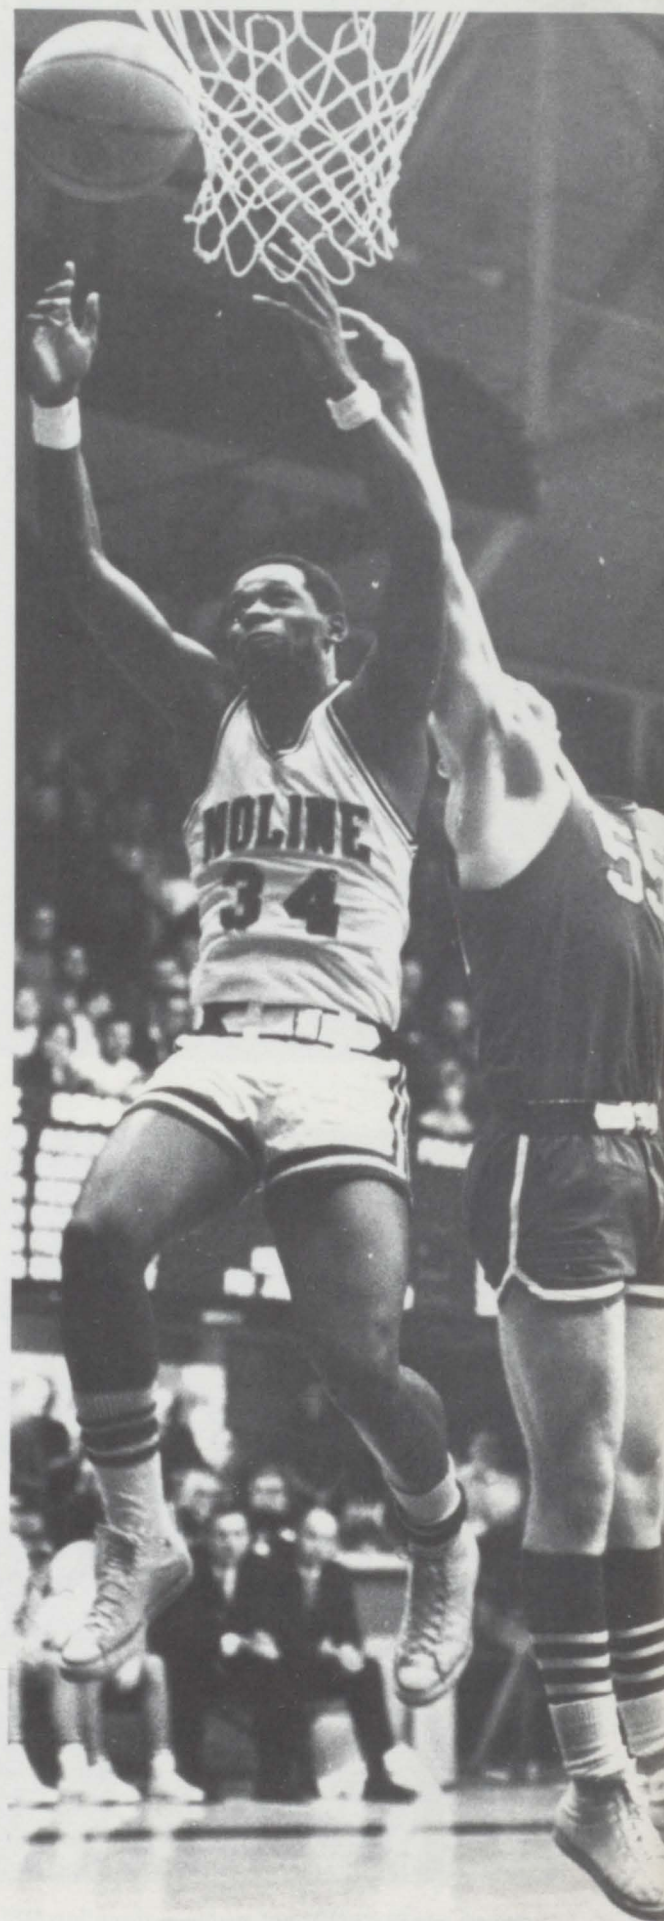

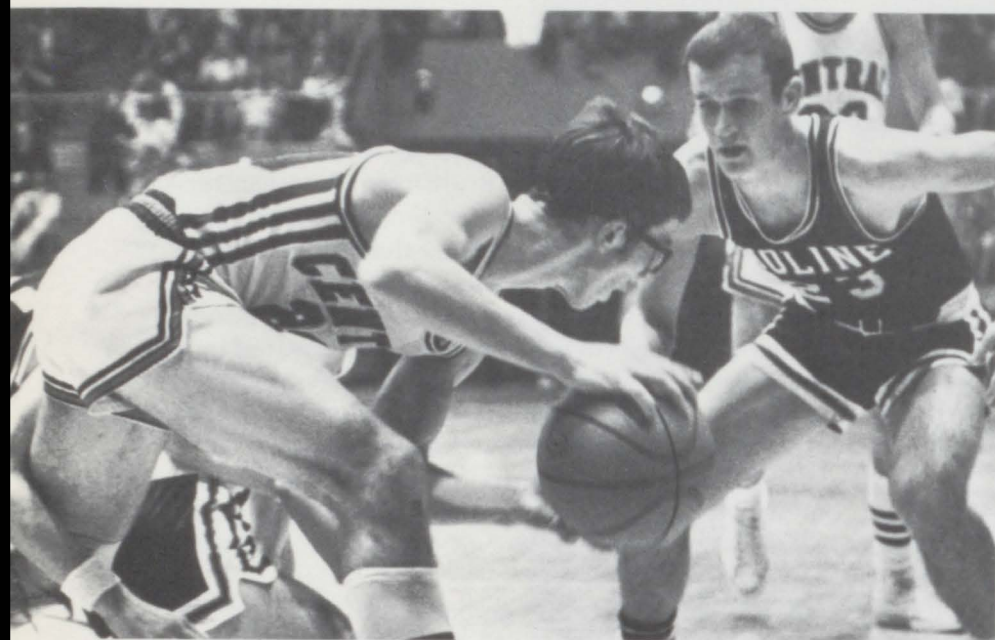

Basketball is not a contact sport, but these players show in intramurals, things are different.

Intramural flag football is rough and exciting, but the participants learn good sportsmanship and have a good time. Science Club player Jim Miller starts to pass to a teammate as Brad Lunde wards off a would-be pass blocker.

Good Shooting, Team Spirit Helps in Maroon Victories

Led by seniors Max Hansen, Bill Freeman, John Lester, and Curt Anders, the 1968-69 Moline Maroon basketball team, coached by Mr. Herb Thompson and Mr. Bill Baltzell, again finished a winning season. Underclassmen Gordy Bloeser, Tim Moen, and Mike Quinones gave the team depth.

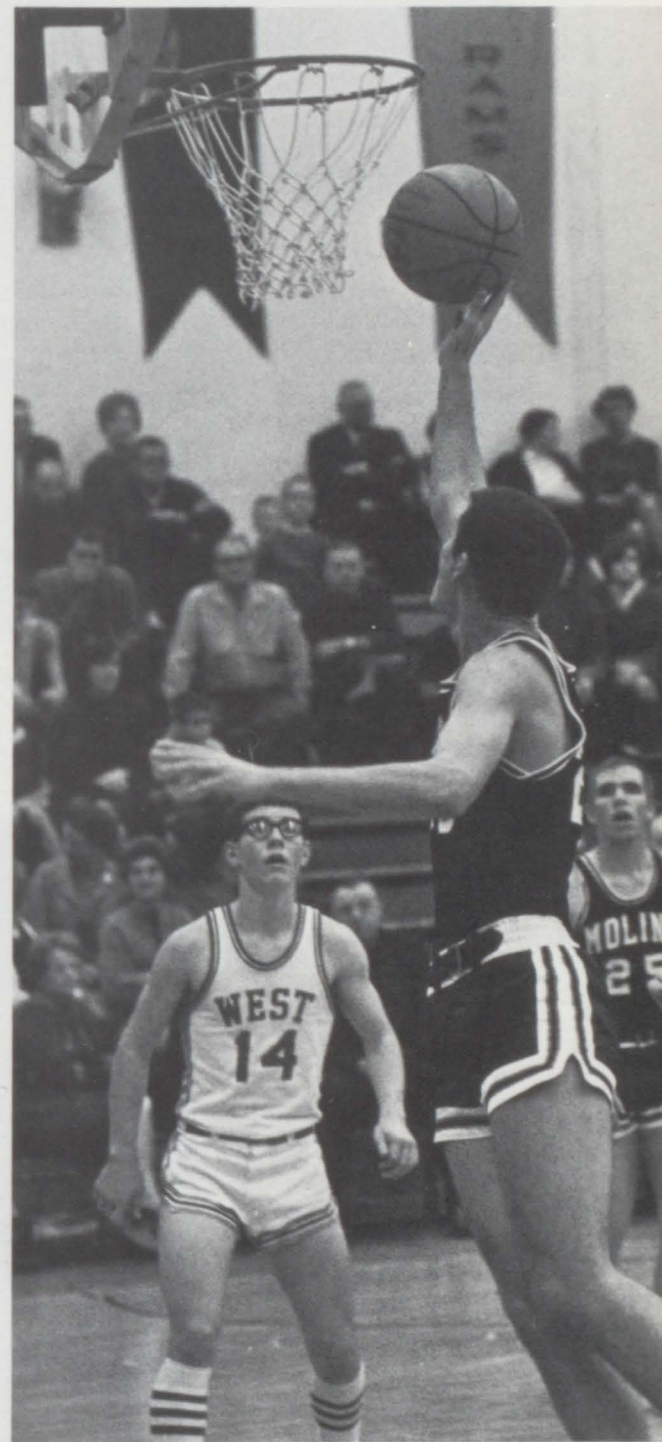

This year's hardcourt men relied on quickness, speed, and accurate passing and shooting. After a fine 77 to 48 win over East Rockford in the opening game of the season, Moline suffered its first loss at the hands of Central 62 to 64. Quincy came into Moline ranked as one of the top teams in the state, but were upset in an exciting 70 to 69 win. Moline finished the season by winning most of the remaining games to close with a 14-9 record. The Maroons won their first game of the regional tournament by defeating Geneseo 85 to 54. Moline's tournament play ended when Alleman beat the team 72 to 45.

At the annual awards banquet, the coaching staff and team selected Greg Kookan and John Lester co-captains for the 1968-69 season. Lester also shared the most valuable player award with Bill Freeman. Curt Anders received the best defensive player award.

Fans Cheer We're No. 1; Vavrus' Matmen Win State!

After twenty-three years as a wrestling coach at Moline, Mr. Joe Vavrus received what he said was the greatest thrill of his life when his wrestling team won the state championship in Champaign. Mr. Vavrus and his assistant coach, Herm Miskowicz, coached two Maroons, Dwight McHenry and Paul Carther, to individual championships in their respective weight classes. However, Randy Puebla and Ken Coverdill contributed valuable points needed to beat Moline's closest competitor, North Chicago, by the score 33—32.

McHenry beat the former state champ in an overtime victory which set the stage for a dramatic finish by Carther. Paul was behind 3—1 in the last period of the heavy-weight championship bout and needed a pin to put Moline ahead, and he did with 54 seconds remaining.

The mat team also won the district and sectional meets with help from seniors Steve Harper and Steve Perez. Al Almanza, Bill Murray, and Bill Skinner turned in solid performances through the dual meet season. This year's wrestling squad brought pride to our student body and the second state championship in Moline's history.

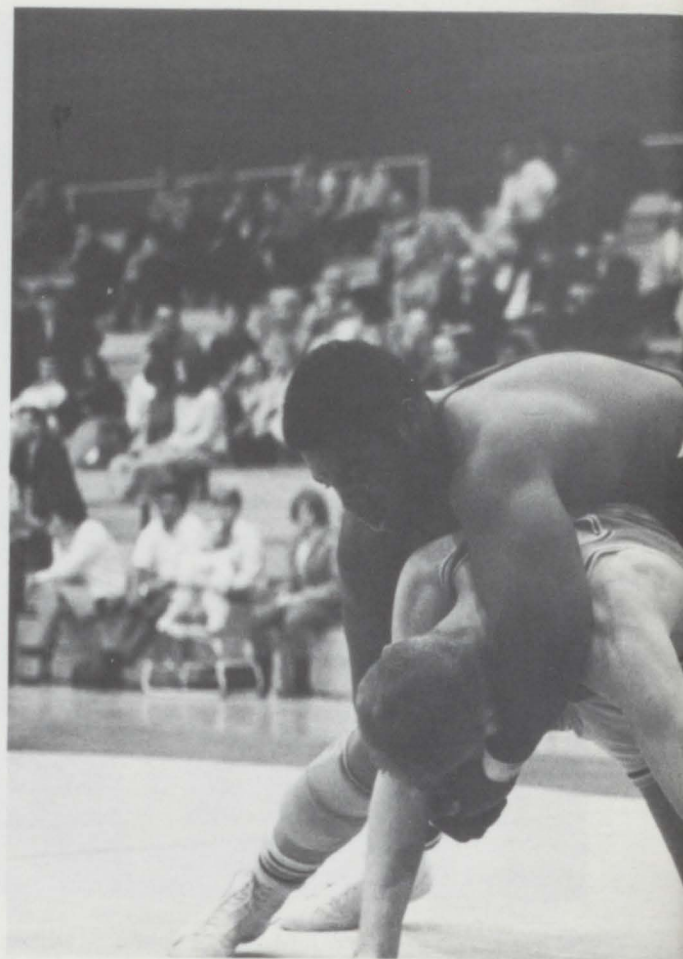

State champions Dwight McHenry and Paul Carther display with Mr. Joe Vavrus the winnings of Moline's state champion wrestling team.

Conelly Sets State Record Swimmers 2nd At District

Head Coach Joe Ruberg again guided his tankmen through another successful dual and tournament schedule. With returning lettermen Gary Conelly, Doug Forsberg, Jim Flatley, Bob Gruenberger, and Jeff Jenkins, the swim team rolled to a 6—2 season record, their only losses being to Rock Island by one point and to powerful Hinsdale.

Conelly, Forsberg, and the 400 yard freestyle relay team composed of Al Hallene, Jenkins, Bill Morris, and Gruenberger paced the tankmen to take second in the district meet. Rock Island won with 250 points.

All-American Conelly went on to the state meet where he won the 100 yard freestyle in 47.4 seconds—breaking the state record of 47.9. Gary came back later to take third in the 200 yard freestyle. Because of Conelly's efforts for the team, the Maroons took eleventh at state.

Smith Excels at Distance; Sprints Ander's Specialty

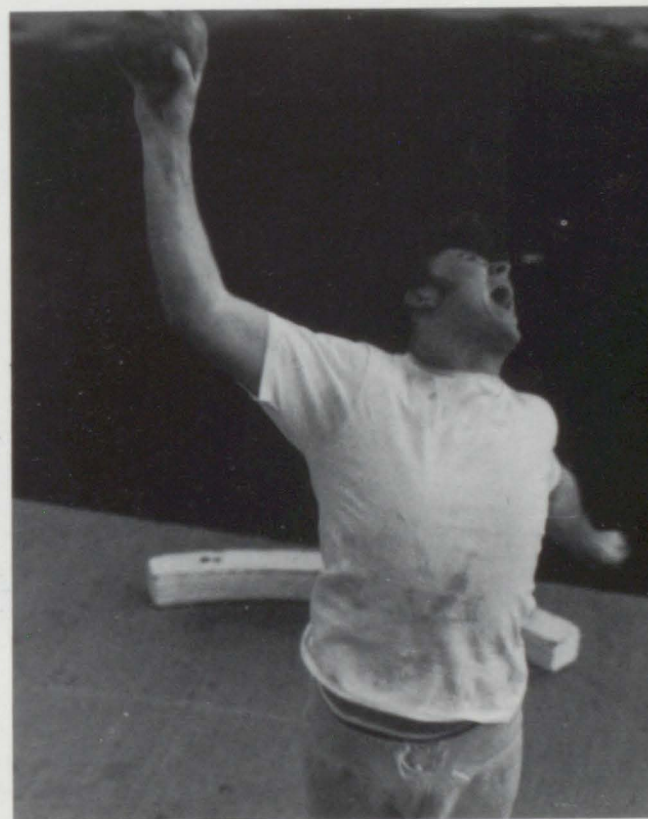

Around a nucleus of twelve returning lettermen, Mr. Gene Shipley molded his trackmen into one of the top teams in the state. Underclassmen added depth to the team led by two lettermen, Duane Smith and Curt Anders, who placed high individually in last year's state meet. Other returning cindersmen were weightman Paul Carther, high jumper Rich Bump, sprinter Mike VanAcker, and pole vaulter, Al St. Clair.

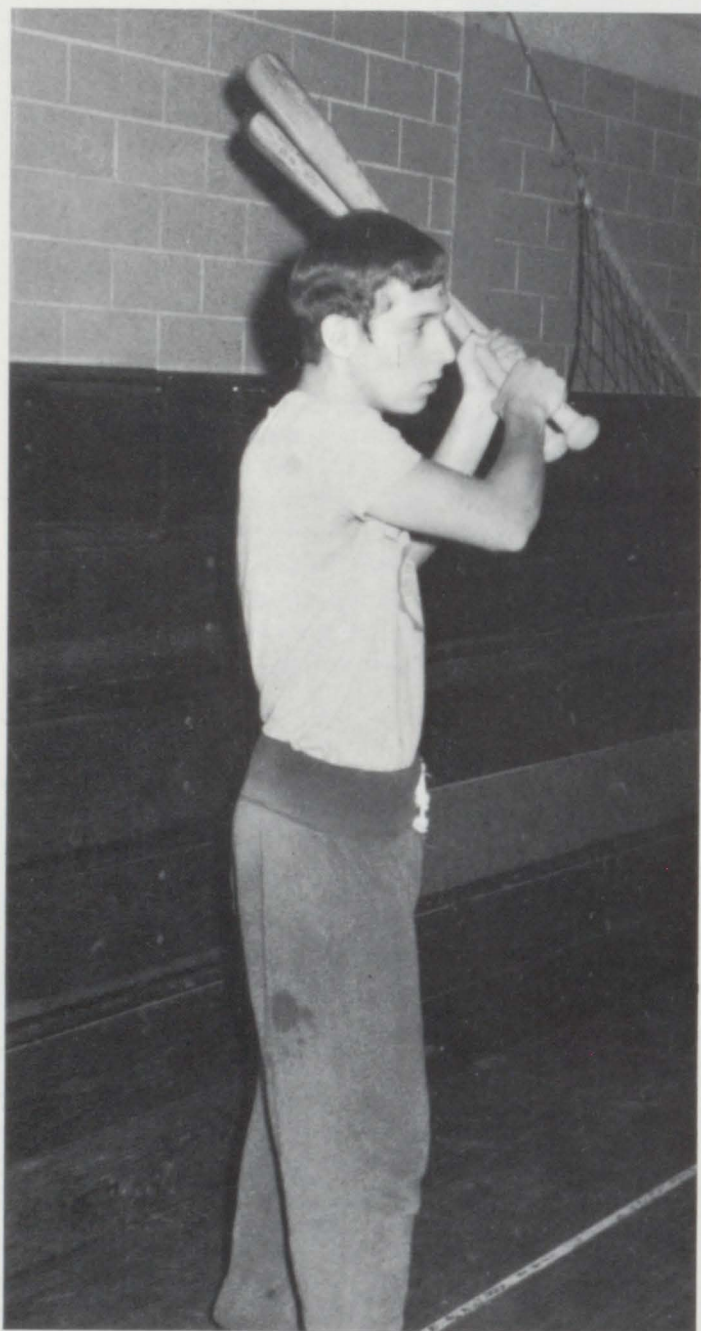

The coaching of Mr. Bob Brooks, Mr. Richard Lewis, and Mr. Tom Seitz aided Coach Shipley this year. Mr. Shipley worked with the distance runners, Mr. Brooks the sprinters, Mr. Lewis handled the discus and shot men, and Mr. Seitz helped the pole vaulters, high jumpers, and broad jumpers. These men initiated hard workouts in the form of long runs and weight lifting to get the team in good physical shape for the difficult schedule.

Coaches are KNEELING: Tom Seitz, Richard Lewis. STANDING: Gene Shipley, Bob Brooks.

Experienced Players Form Core of Aggressive Squad

Head coach Bill Best with the assistance of Mr. Bill Baltzell worked hard with his group of baseball candidates, molding them into a fine winning team. Coach Best had one fine letterman pitcher returning in Steve Eckert. Other returning lettermen were John DeCoster, John Lester, and Tim John. A fine group of junior ballplayers challenged the varsity lettermen for their individual playing position.

Hampered by cold weather, the team had to practice inside for the beginning of the year, working on the pitching machine to develop good hitting. Working to get his team into good physical condition for the oncoming schedule, Mr. Best ran them into shape and on to a winning season.

Combined efforts.
 We emerge with extended outlooks on life.
 The friendly relations,
 The individual, evolved.
 These Encounters,
 . . . have made us aware.

Realizing the extensive amount of time, patience, and cooperation needed for the completion of a yearbook, the staff members of the '69 "M" would like to express their gratitude to Dr. Carmelo V. Sapone, the faculty and student body of MHS, Mr. William Nordquist and Nordquist Studio, the Daily Dispatch, our student photographers, our advertisers, our parents, Mr. M.L. Gardner, Mr. Doug Groesbeck and the American Yearbook Company, and our advisor Mr. John Adam for their innumerable contributions.

Talented Students Honored At Traditional Lit Banquet

WRITING AWARD WINNERS: Judy Shelton, Kaleidoscript art award; Pat Beitel, honorable mention for prose; Shelley Whittingham, honorable mention for prose; Mike Corwin, Ella M. Cockrell award for prose; Jim Strutz, honorable mention for poetry and Ella M. Cockrell award for poetry; Bruce Ballard, honorable mention for prose.

With the banquet theme "A Sentimental Journey" in the manner of the Canterbury Tales, the Literary Board honored well-deserving students with creative writing awards, the Julia E. Gettemy and the Ella M. Cockrell awards; and awards for excellence in art.

Miss Barabra M. Garst was present to present the art award to the students who best captured a moment of literature on canvas.

Also this spring there was a banquet at the John Deere Administration Building honoring band award winners.

Mr. Dilulio awards band winners: Bonnie Buhle, John Philip Sousa award; Sue Kapple, first class musician, senior; Marie Hebdon, best twirler; Merlee Mawdsley, librarian; Jane Weaver, first class musician, junior; Pete Lewis, best student director, drum major; Mike Barber, first class musician, sophomore; Gerald Stahr, most improved; Mike Swank, best section leader; Bob Warren, soloist.

"Love" Senior Prom Attains Height of Social Activities

The completion of 1969 was done in dramatic fashion at the traditional Senior Ball. With the selection of "Love" as the theme, appropriate decorations of blue and white tissue flowers, multi-colored carnations, and tahitian lamps were arranged by the prom committee.

The Ball was held on May 17 at the Holiday Inn and the music was provided by the Ambassadors. The festivities were completed with dinner and picnics.

The theme of the ball, "Love," set the mood of the dance. Formal attire and the music of The Ambassadors made the evening memorable.

Pausing to get an overhead view of the decorated polar bear are seniors Tom Hoogheem and Bill Freeman and their dates.

"Girls in 509", ADC, Last Two Productions of 1969 at Moline

The last dramatic production of the year was Howard Teichmann's "The Girls in 509." It is a political satire about two women, Mimsy (Barb Thomas) and her aunt Hettie (Shelley Whittingham), who lock themselves in a hotel room to escape the Democrats, newly elected to Washington. Problems arise when the hotel is to be demolished and the women refuse to come out of seclusion. When Old Jim (Hank Larson), the hotel's only employee, discloses that these ladies are Vanderwicks, the story immediately becomes front-page news. Reporters, Ryan of the Daily News (Tim Leaf), Johnson of the Daily Mirror (Doug Hensley), and Rosenthal of the Post (Jeff Adamson), flock to the scene. Along with them comes would-be reporter Professor Pusey (Clark Wilson). Social Worker Miss Freud (Sheila Caruthers) informs them they will be put in public institutions. Party bosses Winthrop Allen and Francis X. Nella (both played by Geoff Lee), come to win the "girls" over to their side. The confusion and bungling of their lawyer, Aubrey McKittridge (John Sundine), convinces them to go into seclusion again in a new hotel.

The 31st annual ADC show held April 25 and 26, was entitled "Potpourri or The Times They Are A-Changin'." The production was directed by Mr. DeWayne Roush, and student co-directors, Pete Lewis and Steve Thomas. The band, was directed by Doug Sauter. Acts ranged from comedy to protest to song and dance. The show ended with the chorus singing, dancing and throwing flowers into the audience.

News reporters (Doug Hensley, Jeff Adamson, and Tim Leaf) gather around the party boss (Geoff Lee) to get a story.

The ADC chorus used many new ideas this year. Here they sing "Hair."

Mimsy (Barb Thomas) and her Aunt Hettie (Shelley Whittingham) listen attentively as Old Jim (Hank Larson) and Miss Freud (Sheila Caruthers) explain that the "Girls" will be put in public institutions.

Clark Wilson, representing the "younger generation," and Bill Bennett, representing the "old folks," widen the infamous generation gap.

"Granny Come Lately," better known as Sheri Cashen, proved to be the hippest girl at ADC.
